ABODE MULTIPLE WINNER AT THE PRISM AWARDS

Green Builder Mixes Smart Design with Innovative Building Techniques

October 20, 2009 - The Builders Association of Greater Boston's (BAGB) Sales & Marketing Council presented ABODE Builders of New England with several awards at the recent 2009 PRISM Awards. The PRISM Awards are presented in celebration of the best-of-the-best in building, design and marketing throughout BAGB and beyond. Members submitted 261 projects to be judged by their peers from the Builders Association of Greater Boston.

ABODE's "Mountain Home" in Plymouth, NH, was awarded Gold for Best Model Home Interior priced under $650,000, and Silver for Most Innovative Single Family Green Design and Best Single Family Home Design under 2,500 square feet. ABODE's Design Center also took home Silver for Best Sales Center/Showroom, bringing the company's overall 2009 award total to ten. "It is a tremendous honor to win these awards, especially when so many high-caliber projects were submitted. These recognitions confirm our commitment to green homebuilding and our dedication to incorporating smart, quality design into each of our projects," stated Sue Hawkes, Principal of ABODE.

ABODE's hybrid construction® process is transforming the green homebuilding industry by combining advanced production systems and green technologies that result in higher energy efficiency, superior and more environmentally-friendly construction techniques and faster delivery time.
